

About

2007-03-03 14:36:31

I am a young professional; working with a prominent multinational company. Penulis buku. Kadang-kadang serius; kadang-kadang bercanda. Dang kadang belajar, dang kadang bekerja; dang kadang bermain. Kadang-kadang bicara didepan kelas training. Kadang-kadang nulis nggak karuan seperti dalam Gue-Blog (Baca: Blog-nya gue) ini. Kadang-kadang tulisan saya bermafaat. Kadang-kadang tulisan saya sangat bermanfaat sekali. Dan, kadang-kadang saya Dadang. Dang. Dang. Dadang. Dang.

I have been working on various area of expertise, such as Sales and Marketing, Training Management, Product Planning Management, Business Development and Customer Retention Management. While writing this article, I hold a position of Strategic Planning Department Head of a Multinational Company. It is a world leading company in the industry, by the way. Not bad-lah...

Far before above formal professional works, I have more informal sector experiences. Dari mulai petani, penggembala domba, buruh bangunan, menarik becak, tukang jualan gorengan, macam-macam. No kidding? Noooo kidding. Senelangsa itukah? Not really. Saya melakukan semua itu ketika masih sekolah. And I have been really lucky for that.

Menulis, masih sekedar selingan. Satu buku sudah diterbitkan. Dan buku lain mudah-mudahan dalam waktu dekat akan meluncur juga. Begitu juga dengan memberikan training; belum menjadi full timer trainer. Even though I documented excellent track record when I was formally holding a Field Training Manager position in a global multinational company. I learnt delivery skills, Facilitation skill, Training Need Analysis, Training for trainer, Adult learning system, dan sebagainya itu in the United States of America " biasanya orang gampang terpujau pada segala sesuatu yang berbau Amrik. Bukan begitu? Therefore, I don't think that I still need to tell you if I also have learned so many things in Australia and other countries. Nor to say that I also learned from Anthony Robbins of " you may have heard " the world number 1 coach. Ah, sorry; I guess I have to stop talking about my learning patches things. But; please don't ask me to show the certificate. I can only tell you my little secret; I don't even remember where I put my Ijazah dari Institute Teknologi Bandung yang didapatkan dengan susah payah.

Saturday and Sunday are the days-off for whatsoever office stuffs. And it means a lot to me, since then I can allocate my time to stand up in front of my training classes " kalau ada order; haha. Kalau tidak, membelai-belai tanaman hias di halaman rumah. Bersepeda santai. Mencuci mobil. Naik keatap genteng. Mengantar istri belanja. Menemani anak-anak bermain. Apa saja. Gak perlu ngoyo, kan? Monday to Friday should be a very hectic seasons at work. Saturday and Sunday for many other urusan. What a wonderful life.....